

I hope you are not going to change anything with the indiana telephone privacy law. The implimentation of the law has significantly reduced the amount of interuptions to my day. I just wish no one would be able to solícite anything from me. I also wish you could do something simular with Spam Email.